The AIEA Academy for New Senior International Officers

Duke University, Durham, North Carolina
May 11–15, 2015

The Association of International Education Administrators is pleased to announce the inaugural AIEA Academy for new senior international officers. The Academy, co-hosted with the Duke Center for International Studies (DUCIS), will take place in Durham, NC, from May 11-15, 2015. This training program is designed for administrators in the first five years of their current appointment. Certificates will be issued by DUCIS and AIEA to participants upon completion of the Academy.

The Institute will cover nine thematic topics that are relevant for leaders in international higher education: relations with the administration, involving faculty, making alliances, programs and partnerships, communications, assessment, resources, strategic planning, and career decisions.

The Academy faculty will be Pia Wood (University of Tennessee, Knoxville), Penelope Pynes (University of North Carolina, Greensboro), Riall Nolan (Purdue University), and Gilbert Merkx (Duke University). Additional speakers will include Uliana Gabara (University of Richmond) and Darla Deardorff (AIEA). Each faculty member will chair two topical sessions, but all will comment on each topic. There will also be three sessions set aside for presentations and small group discussions among the participants to apply the knowledge to their own contexts. Through the Academy, participants will gain valuable knowledge and insights into how to lead comprehensive internationalization at their institutions.

The fee for the Academy will be $1450 per person, which will cover the cost of lodging (Mon-Thurs nights), breakfasts, break snacks and beverages, lunches, and the opening and closing dinners. Applications will be made available on the AIEA web site in January 2015 and will be accepted on a rolling basis through March 31st, 2015. Contact the AIEA staff for more information at aiea@duke.edu or by calling 1-919-668-1928.
