This is a record of chat conversations during the conference call

From Yogesh Kumar Sharma: Good evening to all friends

From Katy Rosenbaum - AIEA : Welcome!

From Katy Rosenbaum - AIEA : All participants are encouraged to use the chat feature for discussing insights and sharing resources, but please direct questions to the Q+A window.

Note that as we are using a webinar platform, your video will not be visible and all participants are muted unless unmuted by a moderator.

We encourage you to submit questions in the Q+A window - and both panelists and participants are able to respond in this feature.

From Iniobong Odejimi: Thank you so much for this opportunity.

From Caroline Maurer: Thank you Delia, that was a great overview of the NEP in India.

From Delia Heneghan: My pleasure, Caroline

From Sufei Li: Delia, thanks for the summary and updating regarding India's NEP. Can you explain more why it is difficult to have partnerships with Indian universities? Thank you.

From Michael Green : Some great questions rolling in. I am doing my best to address them briefly given the paucity of time and will fan them out to the group after Nidhi's remarks.

From Clay Hensley: Thank you so much for organizing this opportunity. Michael, Ishrat, Delia, Peter, Kiki & Nidhi, so great to hear your voices! Need to log off for another obligation, but this was wonderful.

From Katy Rosenbaum - AIEA: Thanks, Michael!

From Iniobong Odejimi: thank you so much for this very impactful session.

From Michael Green: Thank you Clay!

From Darla Deardorff : Many thanks to Sannam S4 and the wonderful panelists today for this partnered town hall today and many thanks to all of you for participating today!

From Alice Yang: How is the women's higher education in India? Is there a women's college/university coalition in India? Can you recommend a few to collaborate on women's higher education? Thanks! - Alice Yang, Saint Mary's College (Notre Dame, Indiana)

From Darla Deardorff : To all those participating in today's Town Hall, please take just a few minutes to complete this survey (5 questions) - many thanks!
